Operations report 2026, page 1

The Shepparton depot reported 15 hours of planned maintenance and 45 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 43 out of 100 in June, up from 100.

In June, the finance team at the Docklands office closed 51 of its 106 open tickets.

In August, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 10 of its 107 open tickets.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 73 years was recommended.

Spending by the facilities team in January was 55 thousand dollars against a budget of 86 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 43 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 89 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 87 out of 100 in April, up from 71.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 6 out of 100 in October, up from 48.

In May, the people and culture team at the Docklands office closed 4 of its 90 open tickets.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 9 percent compared with May last year.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 41 percent compared with February last year.

The Docklands office reported 4 hours of planned maintenance and 112 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 50 percent compared with June last year.

Spending by the people and culture team in July was 75 thousand dollars against a budget of 39 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 26 out of 100 in June, up from 24.

In May, the customer support team at the Docklands office closed 29 of its 38 open tickets.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 21 percent compared with July last year.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 44 percent compared with April last year.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 20 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 68 percent compared with October last year.

In August, the logistics team at the Docklands office closed 41 of its 38 open tickets.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 49 percent compared with June last year.

Spending by the logistics team in January was 85 thousand dollars against a budget of 51 thousand.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 56 years was recommended.

Spending by the facilities team in June was 22 thousand dollars against a budget of 105 thousand.

The Docklands office reported 87 hours of planned maintenance and 34 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 82 percent compared with December last year.

In May, the finance team at the Shepparton depot closed 61 of its 18 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 15 out of 100 in October, up from 102.

Spending by the finance team in February was 61 thousand dollars against a budget of 48 thousand.

In February, the logistics team at the Bendigo depot closed 20 of its 108 open tickets.

The Docklands office reported 88 hours of planned maintenance and 12 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

The people and culture team hired 81 people in May, and 90 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 89 percent compared with November last year.

In June, the facilities team at the Bendigo depot closed 89 of its 63 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 78 years was recommended.

Spending by the facilities team in September was 78 thousand dollars against a budget of 42 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 86 out of 100 in March, up from 108.

The Bendigo depot reported 11 hours of planned maintenance and 62 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

In November, the customer support team at the Ballarat office closed 28 of its 72 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 43 out of 100 in March, up from 35.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 35 percent compared with February last year.

In April, the engineering team at the Bendigo depot closed 53 of its 34 open tickets.

In September, the facilities team at the Dandenong workshop closed 66 of its 89 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 17 years was recommended.

Spending by the facilities team in February was 34 thousand dollars against a budget of 61 thousand.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 90 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 84 out of 100 in November, up from 103.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 82 percent compared with January last year.

In December, the sales team at the Ballarat office closed 21 of its 12 open tickets.

Spending by the logistics team in October was 55 thousand dollars against a budget of 13 thousand.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 29 percent compared with May last year.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 73 years was recommended.

In October, the customer support team at the Dandenong workshop closed 73 of its 97 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 22 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 8 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 3 out of 100 in August, up from 101.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 41 percent compared with January last year.

Spending by the customer support team in September was 41 thousand dollars against a budget of 50 thousand.

The Docklands office reported 82 hours of planned maintenance and 49 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

The Shepparton depot reported 76 hours of planned maintenance and 67 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 72 percent compared with February last year.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 82 percent compared with September last year.

In June, the finance team at the Dandenong workshop closed 57 of its 111 open tickets.

The engineering team hired 65 people in November, and 116 roles remain open across the business.

In November, the engineering team at the Ballarat office closed 30 of its 108 open tickets.

Spending by the facilities team in April was 63 thousand dollars against a budget of 23 thousand.

In January, the customer support team at the Docklands office closed 4 of its 25 open tickets.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 65 percent compared with November last year.

In June, the engineering team at the Shepparton depot closed 62 of its 115 open tickets.

In September, the engineering team at the Ballarat office closed 32 of its 43 open tickets.

In January, the customer support team at the Bendigo depot closed 66 of its 30 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 68 out of 100 in July, up from 111.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 39 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 37 out of 100 in March, up from 82.

In February, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 61 of its 69 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 23 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop reported 59 hours of planned maintenance and 109 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

The logistics team hired 34 people in December, and 57 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot reported 32 hours of planned maintenance and 104 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

The Dandenong workshop reported 41 hours of planned maintenance and 54 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 49 out of 100 in September, up from 114.

In January, the customer support team at the Bendigo depot closed 77 of its 84 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 60 out of 100 in March, up from 61.

The Shepparton depot reported 36 hours of planned maintenance and 42 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 45 percent compared with August last year.

The Ballarat office reported 27 hours of planned maintenance and 29 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Spending by the people and culture team in December was 36 thousand dollars against a budget of 19 thousand.

In July, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 6 of its 86 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 88 out of 100 in September, up from 80.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 71 years was recommended.

In January, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 22 of its 21 open tickets.

Spending by the engineering team in August was 52 thousand dollars against a budget of 79 thousand.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 2 percent compared with June last year.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 75 percent compared with February last year.

Spending by the people and culture team in February was 12 thousand dollars against a budget of 15 thousand.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 59 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 2 percent compared with October last year.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 29 out of 100 in July, up from 39.

The Dandenong workshop reported 38 hours of planned maintenance and 43 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

The Ballarat office reported 49 hours of planned maintenance and 20 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Docklands office reported 20 hours of planned maintenance and 71 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 75 percent compared with November last year.

The Shepparton depot reported 76 hours of planned maintenance and 49 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 50 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 31 out of 100 in May, up from 15.

The Bendigo depot reported 46 hours of planned maintenance and 104 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 15 out of 100 in November, up from 37.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 45 out of 100 in May, up from 39.

The logistics team hired 81 people in February, and 11 roles remain open across the business.

In September, the customer support team at the Ballarat office closed 89 of its 109 open tickets.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 13 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 77 out of 100 in October, up from 64.

In April, the finance team at the Shepparton depot closed 66 of its 52 open tickets.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 74 percent compared with March last year.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 28 out of 100 in April, up from 65.

In May, the logistics team at the Bendigo depot closed 54 of its 57 open tickets.

The logistics team hired 18 people in September, and 93 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot reported 28 hours of planned maintenance and 75 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 45 years was recommended.

Spending by the sales team in February was 30 thousand dollars against a budget of 65 thousand.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 32 years was recommended.

The logistics team hired 14 people in January, and 24 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot reported 32 hours of planned maintenance and 64 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

Spending by the customer support team in February was 61 thousand dollars against a budget of 60 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 2 out of 100 in March, up from 99.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 21 out of 100 in December, up from 96.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 10 out of 100 in January, up from 16.

In October, the finance team at the Shepparton depot closed 49 of its 32 open tickets.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 15 percent compared with November last year.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 21 years was recommended.

Spending by the sales team in September was 88 thousand dollars against a budget of 14 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 42 percent compared with May last year.

The engineering team hired 50 people in April, and 45 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office reported 77 hours of planned maintenance and 113 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

The engineering team hired 38 people in June, and 91 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot reported 47 hours of planned maintenance and 31 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

In November, the engineering team at the Bendigo depot closed 81 of its 10 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 15 hours of planned maintenance and 104 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 49 percent compared with February last year.

The people and culture team hired 30 people in October, and 59 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 75 out of 100 in July, up from 79.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 21 percent compared with December last year.

Spending by the facilities team in October was 66 thousand dollars against a budget of 67 thousand.

Spending by the customer support team in September was 33 thousand dollars against a budget of 119 thousand.

In January, the logistics team at the Dandenong workshop closed 55 of its 87 open tickets.

The facilities team hired 50 people in April, and 89 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the finance team in August was 34 thousand dollars against a budget of 111 thousand.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 32 percent compared with July last year.

The Dandenong workshop reported 86 hours of planned maintenance and 21 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The people and culture team hired 8 people in February, and 21 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 33 years was recommended.

The Docklands office reported 27 hours of planned maintenance and 25 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

In August, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 45 of its 87 open tickets.

In June, the customer support team at the Ballarat office closed 62 of its 113 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 6 hours of planned maintenance and 118 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 77 percent compared with September last year.

In July, the logistics team at the Shepparton depot closed 27 of its 61 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 45 hours of planned maintenance and 16 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 87 percent compared with December last year.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 65 years was recommended.

The finance team hired 12 people in April, and 24 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 12 percent compared with January last year.

The logistics team hired 51 people in August, and 19 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the customer support team in May was 7 thousand dollars against a budget of 38 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 40 percent compared with July last year.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 21 out of 100 in January, up from 108.

Spending by the facilities team in October was 28 thousand dollars against a budget of 74 thousand.

The Bendigo depot reported 87 hours of planned maintenance and 105 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

The logistics team hired 54 people in January, and 24 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 38 out of 100 in March, up from 47.

The Shepparton depot reported 2 hours of planned maintenance and 96 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 80 percent compared with February last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 71 years was recommended.

In March, the people and culture team at the Dandenong workshop closed 22 of its 50 open tickets.

Spending by the customer support team in August was 41 thousand dollars against a budget of 66 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 85 percent compared with August last year.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 56 years was recommended.

In June, the engineering team at the Docklands office closed 20 of its 30 open tickets.

Spending by the sales team in October was 27 thousand dollars against a budget of 105 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 18 out of 100 in September, up from 53.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 35 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 16 out of 100 in July, up from 101.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 66 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 86 percent compared with February last year.

In October, the sales team at the Docklands office closed 33 of its 37 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 2 out of 100 in August, up from 108.

Spending by the logistics team in February was 54 thousand dollars against a budget of 45 thousand.

The Bendigo depot reported 87 hours of planned maintenance and 90 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

Spending by the customer support team in April was 53 thousand dollars against a budget of 85 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 86 out of 100 in July, up from 10.

In November, the sales team at the Bendigo depot closed 25 of its 76 open tickets.

Spending by the people and culture team in May was 32 thousand dollars against a budget of 105 thousand.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 42 years was recommended.

The Ballarat office reported 71 hours of planned maintenance and 10 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 63 out of 100 in August, up from 101.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 77 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot reported 68 hours of planned maintenance and 13 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

In March, the engineering team at the Docklands office closed 62 of its 113 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 25 out of 100 in July, up from 22.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 51 percent compared with January last year.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 43 out of 100 in January, up from 79.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 59 out of 100 in June, up from 95.

The engineering team hired 30 people in August, and 81 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 47 years was recommended.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 83 years was recommended.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 87 years was recommended.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 60 years was recommended.

In December, the people and culture team at the Bendigo depot closed 58 of its 108 open tickets.

In July, the logistics team at the Docklands office closed 56 of its 90 open tickets.

The facilities team hired 85 people in November, and 118 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 35 out of 100 in December, up from 105.

In January, the sales team at the Ballarat office closed 57 of its 10 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 58 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 42 percent compared with July last year.

In November, the engineering team at the Shepparton depot closed 58 of its 87 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 50 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 53 percent compared with May last year.

In December, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 32 of its 20 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 41 out of 100 in January, up from 118.

The Ballarat office reported 77 hours of planned maintenance and 39 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

The Dandenong workshop reported 41 hours of planned maintenance and 37 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 48 percent compared with November last year.

In May, the logistics team at the Bendigo depot closed 25 of its 115 open tickets.

The Docklands office reported 13 hours of planned maintenance and 64 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The Dandenong workshop reported 24 hours of planned maintenance and 70 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 15 out of 100 in May, up from 104.

In November, the facilities team at the Dandenong workshop closed 21 of its 79 open tickets.

Spending by the customer support team in May was 41 thousand dollars against a budget of 28 thousand.

Spending by the facilities team in December was 21 thousand dollars against a budget of 113 thousand.

The Ballarat office reported 39 hours of planned maintenance and 62 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 88 years was recommended.

Spending by the customer support team in March was 83 thousand dollars against a budget of 18 thousand.

The engineering team hired 48 people in February, and 13 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the people and culture team in November was 4 thousand dollars against a budget of 42 thousand.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 13 years was recommended.

Spending by the engineering team in December was 50 thousand dollars against a budget of 70 thousand.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 36 percent compared with March last year.

Spending by the sales team in September was 28 thousand dollars against a budget of 58 thousand.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 4 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 18 years was recommended.

In February, the logistics team at the Dandenong workshop closed 57 of its 87 open tickets.

In April, the sales team at the Docklands office closed 80 of its 78 open tickets.

The Ballarat office reported 89 hours of planned maintenance and 12 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 65 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 25 percent compared with July last year.

In December, the finance team at the Ballarat office closed 69 of its 16 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop reported 59 hours of planned maintenance and 72 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

In May, the customer support team at the Docklands office closed 74 of its 59 open tickets.

Spending by the people and culture team in September was 44 thousand dollars against a budget of 39 thousand.

In September, the sales team at the Ballarat office closed 78 of its 85 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 26 years was recommended.

Spending by the people and culture team in May was 44 thousand dollars against a budget of 102 thousand.

In January, the finance team at the Ballarat office closed 13 of its 70 open tickets.

The sales team hired 28 people in May, and 14 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 22 out of 100 in January, up from 92.

The Bendigo depot reported 76 hours of planned maintenance and 10 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 86 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 89 out of 100 in April, up from 12.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 36 percent compared with October last year.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 82 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 85 hours of planned maintenance and 57 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 69 percent compared with January last year.

Spending by the sales team in May was 2 thousand dollars against a budget of 74 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 2 out of 100 in March, up from 35.

The sales team hired 75 people in August, and 102 roles remain open across the business.

In October, the logistics team at the Shepparton depot closed 52 of its 70 open tickets.

In October, the engineering team at the Docklands office closed 2 of its 104 open tickets.

The people and culture team hired 58 people in August, and 71 roles remain open across the business.

In August, the customer support team at the Ballarat office closed 42 of its 42 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 34 out of 100 in November, up from 16.

In February, the facilities team at the Dandenong workshop closed 73 of its 60 open tickets.

Spending by the sales team in September was 71 thousand dollars against a budget of 85 thousand.

Spending by the engineering team in March was 23 thousand dollars against a budget of 33 thousand.

In October, the engineering team at the Bendigo depot closed 29 of its 52 open tickets.

The customer support team hired 34 people in July, and 51 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 46 percent compared with September last year.

Spending by the engineering team in December was 23 thousand dollars against a budget of 113 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 29 out of 100 in February, up from 109.

In October, the engineering team at the Shepparton depot closed 39 of its 101 open tickets.

In May, the engineering team at the Bendigo depot closed 22 of its 120 open tickets.

Spending by the sales team in December was 9 thousand dollars against a budget of 49 thousand.

In March, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 2 of its 19 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 70 out of 100 in March, up from 92.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 17 percent compared with February last year.

Spending by the finance team in February was 31 thousand dollars against a budget of 119 thousand.

In January, the people and culture team at the Bendigo depot closed 15 of its 97 open tickets.

In July, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 58 of its 68 open tickets.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 70 percent compared with June last year.

Spending by the sales team in April was 85 thousand dollars against a budget of 116 thousand.

The Docklands office reported 18 hours of planned maintenance and 114 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 77 years was recommended.

In March, the people and culture team at the Ballarat office closed 24 of its 93 open tickets.

The logistics team hired 88 people in June, and 48 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop reported 85 hours of planned maintenance and 97 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Spending by the people and culture team in January was 38 thousand dollars against a budget of 111 thousand.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 77 percent compared with January last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 23 years was recommended.

The Docklands office reported 52 hours of planned maintenance and 50 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 48 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 6 out of 100 in May, up from 111.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 34 percent compared with July last year.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 84 percent compared with July last year.

The Dandenong workshop reported 63 hours of planned maintenance and 55 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 9 years was recommended.

The facilities team hired 44 people in September, and 26 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot reported 52 hours of planned maintenance and 88 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 22 percent compared with July last year.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 71 out of 100 in June, up from 119.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 36 out of 100 in February, up from 42.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 74 years was recommended.

In March, the engineering team at the Bendigo depot closed 47 of its 49 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 18 out of 100 in September, up from 37.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 17 years was recommended.

In March, the facilities team at the Shepparton depot closed 37 of its 15 open tickets.

The Bendigo depot reported 56 hours of planned maintenance and 74 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

Spending by the people and culture team in June was 40 thousand dollars against a budget of 60 thousand.

The people and culture team hired 13 people in June, and 45 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 24 out of 100 in July, up from 21.

The Dandenong workshop reported 86 hours of planned maintenance and 74 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The Docklands office reported 86 hours of planned maintenance and 13 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 11 out of 100 in December, up from 81.

The Ballarat office reported 69 hours of planned maintenance and 53 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 30 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 34 out of 100 in April, up from 95.

The Docklands office reported 42 hours of planned maintenance and 90 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Spending by the sales team in December was 18 thousand dollars against a budget of 49 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 73 out of 100 in September, up from 10.

In November, the facilities team at the Docklands office closed 36 of its 88 open tickets.

Spending by the sales team in October was 18 thousand dollars against a budget of 102 thousand.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 52 years was recommended.

In November, the customer support team at the Docklands office closed 43 of its 40 open tickets.

The facilities team hired 36 people in November, and 80 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 61 out of 100 in April, up from 73.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 53 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 34 percent compared with January last year.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 59 percent compared with May last year.

The Shepparton depot reported 84 hours of planned maintenance and 35 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 84 percent compared with December last year.

The Shepparton depot reported 82 hours of planned maintenance and 101 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

Spending by the people and culture team in July was 59 thousand dollars against a budget of 42 thousand.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 27 percent compared with December last year.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 87 percent compared with October last year.

The Shepparton depot reported 84 hours of planned maintenance and 64 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 90 years was recommended.

The finance team hired 26 people in January, and 21 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office reported 51 hours of planned maintenance and 73 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 61 years was recommended.

Spending by the engineering team in August was 88 thousand dollars against a budget of 84 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 75 out of 100 in December, up from 30.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 72 years was recommended.

The people and culture team hired 78 people in April, and 67 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 75 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 68 percent compared with August last year.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 11 years was recommended.

In February, the logistics team at the Bendigo depot closed 36 of its 51 open tickets.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 26 percent compared with October last year.

In July, the customer support team at the Docklands office closed 41 of its 33 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 53 out of 100 in June, up from 106.

The Dandenong workshop reported 40 hours of planned maintenance and 109 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

Spending by the people and culture team in August was 65 thousand dollars against a budget of 55 thousand.

The Ballarat office reported 87 hours of planned maintenance and 106 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

Spending by the sales team in January was 39 thousand dollars against a budget of 59 thousand.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 52 percent compared with February last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 75 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 62 out of 100 in August, up from 31.

In September, the engineering team at the Bendigo depot closed 67 of its 62 open tickets.

Spending by the sales team in May was 61 thousand dollars against a budget of 52 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 74 percent compared with November last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 11 years was recommended.

The logistics team hired 83 people in November, and 102 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 36 out of 100 in July, up from 40.

The sales team hired 24 people in January, and 97 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the facilities team in November was 46 thousand dollars against a budget of 71 thousand.

The Shepparton depot reported 18 hours of planned maintenance and 91 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

In November, the customer support team at the Dandenong workshop closed 31 of its 64 open tickets.

The Docklands office reported 34 hours of planned maintenance and 58 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 56 out of 100 in October, up from 119.

The facilities team hired 76 people in May, and 21 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot reported 39 hours of planned maintenance and 113 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

The Bendigo depot reported 82 hours of planned maintenance and 106 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

The Docklands office reported 80 hours of planned maintenance and 60 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

The logistics team hired 6 people in April, and 40 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the engineering team in September was 36 thousand dollars against a budget of 49 thousand.

Spending by the engineering team in January was 72 thousand dollars against a budget of 53 thousand.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 65 percent compared with August last year.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 73 percent compared with October last year.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 51 out of 100 in July, up from 69.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 56 percent compared with February last year.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 72 percent compared with September last year.

Spending by the logistics team in January was 88 thousand dollars against a budget of 82 thousand.

The Shepparton depot reported 88 hours of planned maintenance and 67 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

The finance team hired 80 people in February, and 95 roles remain open across the business.

In April, the engineering team at the Shepparton depot closed 41 of its 85 open tickets.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 21 years was recommended.

Spending by the people and culture team in September was 65 thousand dollars against a budget of 32 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 38 percent compared with October last year.

The customer support team hired 21 people in March, and 69 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the engineering team in December was 9 thousand dollars against a budget of 63 thousand.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 32 years was recommended.

Spending by the engineering team in April was 27 thousand dollars against a budget of 90 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 77 percent compared with June last year.

In March, the people and culture team at the Ballarat office closed 88 of its 26 open tickets.

In November, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 50 of its 99 open tickets.

In February, the engineering team at the Dandenong workshop closed 63 of its 87 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop reported 63 hours of planned maintenance and 11 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

The Ballarat office reported 34 hours of planned maintenance and 63 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 37 percent compared with May last year.

The customer support team hired 20 people in December, and 91 roles remain open across the business.

The logistics team hired 64 people in July, and 10 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 79 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 84 out of 100 in July, up from 60.

In October, the logistics team at the Ballarat office closed 82 of its 115 open tickets.

In July, the sales team at the Bendigo depot closed 67 of its 15 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 11 out of 100 in June, up from 64.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 45 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 60 hours of planned maintenance and 86 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 51 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 9 out of 100 in September, up from 52.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 2 out of 100 in July, up from 44.

The sales team hired 81 people in January, and 52 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 37 years was recommended.

In July, the facilities team at the Docklands office closed 2 of its 17 open tickets.

The sales team hired 23 people in December, and 119 roles remain open across the business.

The logistics team hired 69 people in February, and 79 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 9 out of 100 in March, up from 91.

The facilities team hired 32 people in July, and 103 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop reported 31 hours of planned maintenance and 76 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The finance team hired 47 people in July, and 63 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the engineering team in September was 80 thousand dollars against a budget of 118 thousand.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 89 percent compared with March last year.

Spending by the logistics team in December was 7 thousand dollars against a budget of 83 thousand.

The Ballarat office reported 47 hours of planned maintenance and 36 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

In October, the customer support team at the Dandenong workshop closed 67 of its 77 open tickets.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 60 percent compared with November last year.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 8 percent compared with September last year.

The customer support team hired 89 people in July, and 60 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 33 out of 100 in March, up from 67.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 49 percent compared with August last year.

The sales team hired 67 people in April, and 92 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 89 out of 100 in March, up from 75.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 70 percent compared with April last year.

In July, the people and culture team at the Bendigo depot closed 11 of its 14 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 52 out of 100 in June, up from 19.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 71 years was recommended.

In July, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 11 of its 36 open tickets.

In October, the sales team at the Bendigo depot closed 78 of its 58 open tickets.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 23 years was recommended.

Spending by the facilities team in December was 46 thousand dollars against a budget of 86 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 19 percent compared with May last year.

Spending by the facilities team in June was 50 thousand dollars against a budget of 42 thousand.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 59 percent compared with June last year.

In August, the people and culture team at the Docklands office closed 40 of its 46 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 52 hours of planned maintenance and 90 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 67 years was recommended.

In November, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 7 of its 94 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 8 hours of planned maintenance and 17 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

In June, the logistics team at the Shepparton depot closed 61 of its 104 open tickets.

In April, the facilities team at the Shepparton depot closed 38 of its 68 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 30 hours of planned maintenance and 20 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 24 percent compared with July last year.

In December, the facilities team at the Dandenong workshop closed 82 of its 53 open tickets.

Spending by the finance team in March was 6 thousand dollars against a budget of 105 thousand.

Spending by the engineering team in February was 75 thousand dollars against a budget of 47 thousand.

The engineering team hired 68 people in August, and 54 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 87 out of 100 in September, up from 16.

Spending by the logistics team in June was 60 thousand dollars against a budget of 79 thousand.

The facilities team hired 7 people in May, and 94 roles remain open across the business.

The Ballarat office reported 69 hours of planned maintenance and 90 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Spending by the engineering team in August was 77 thousand dollars against a budget of 10 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 38 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 46 out of 100 in April, up from 36.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 27 percent compared with September last year.

The sales team hired 21 people in June, and 86 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 90 out of 100 in October, up from 55.

The engineering team hired 2 people in September, and 50 roles remain open across the business.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 73 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 16 out of 100 in September, up from 47.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 24 percent compared with August last year.

The Ballarat office reported 19 hours of planned maintenance and 42 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The facilities team hired 21 people in March, and 63 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 82 years was recommended.

In November, the sales team at the Dandenong workshop closed 53 of its 44 open tickets.

In March, the finance team at the Docklands office closed 87 of its 65 open tickets.

Spending by the logistics team in May was 37 thousand dollars against a budget of 28 thousand.

Spending by the facilities team in March was 30 thousand dollars against a budget of 27 thousand.

The Bendigo depot reported 30 hours of planned maintenance and 34 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 36 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 48 hours of planned maintenance and 33 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 69 out of 100 in January, up from 55.

The sales team hired 14 people in August, and 113 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot reported 64 hours of planned maintenance and 87 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 8 out of 100 in May, up from 71.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 5 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 16 out of 100 in August, up from 82.

In September, the facilities team at the Ballarat office closed 24 of its 39 open tickets.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 14 percent compared with August last year.

The Docklands office reported 6 hours of planned maintenance and 29 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The people and culture team hired 9 people in October, and 20 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 44 percent compared with July last year.

The sales team hired 9 people in October, and 76 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 79 percent compared with October last year.

The people and culture team hired 13 people in April, and 82 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office reported 4 hours of planned maintenance and 18 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The facilities team hired 68 people in November, and 79 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 23 out of 100 in October, up from 107.

In November, the logistics team at the Ballarat office closed 77 of its 104 open tickets.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 42 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 87 years was recommended.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 44 years was recommended.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 47 years was recommended.

Spending by the sales team in June was 58 thousand dollars against a budget of 66 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop reported 6 hours of planned maintenance and 83 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

The people and culture team hired 31 people in May, and 83 roles remain open across the business.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 77 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 61 hours of planned maintenance and 50 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

The customer support team hired 6 people in March, and 83 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the logistics team in September was 6 thousand dollars against a budget of 100 thousand.

The Docklands office reported 24 hours of planned maintenance and 13 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 24 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 34 years was recommended.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 28 years was recommended.

The facilities team hired 40 people in December, and 36 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 83 out of 100 in March, up from 39.

Spending by the finance team in April was 41 thousand dollars against a budget of 65 thousand.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 57 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 88 percent compared with September last year.

The Docklands office reported 78 hours of planned maintenance and 72 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

The Shepparton depot reported 6 hours of planned maintenance and 100 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Spending by the engineering team in February was 27 thousand dollars against a budget of 58 thousand.

Spending by the people and culture team in January was 90 thousand dollars against a budget of 28 thousand.

The finance team hired 85 people in July, and 95 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 74 percent compared with August last year.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 34 percent compared with August last year.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 2 out of 100 in January, up from 85.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 15 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 6 out of 100 in October, up from 67.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 9 percent compared with April last year.

Spending by the engineering team in November was 20 thousand dollars against a budget of 76 thousand.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 11 years was recommended.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 7 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 18 percent compared with April last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 69 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 54 out of 100 in December, up from 31.

Spending by the customer support team in September was 42 thousand dollars against a budget of 47 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 43 out of 100 in December, up from 14.

The people and culture team hired 84 people in December, and 109 roles remain open across the business.

In July, the finance team at the Shepparton depot closed 68 of its 101 open tickets.

The Docklands office reported 34 hours of planned maintenance and 62 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

Spending by the people and culture team in July was 59 thousand dollars against a budget of 84 thousand.

The Docklands office reported 18 hours of planned maintenance and 47 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 29 years was recommended.

Spending by the sales team in January was 9 thousand dollars against a budget of 67 thousand.

The sales team hired 2 people in May, and 34 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 69 out of 100 in February, up from 89.

The customer support team hired 18 people in October, and 53 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the people and culture team in June was 21 thousand dollars against a budget of 21 thousand.

The Bendigo depot reported 63 hours of planned maintenance and 48 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 62 out of 100 in December, up from 83.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 28 years was recommended.

The people and culture team hired 77 people in April, and 114 roles remain open across the business.

The finance team hired 12 people in May, and 95 roles remain open across the business.

In January, the facilities team at the Ballarat office closed 3 of its 118 open tickets.

The customer support team hired 67 people in April, and 38 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 22 percent compared with June last year.

Spending by the sales team in April was 53 thousand dollars against a budget of 29 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 62 out of 100 in July, up from 21.

In December, the people and culture team at the Shepparton depot closed 82 of its 113 open tickets.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 7 years was recommended.

In October, the customer support team at the Dandenong workshop closed 50 of its 97 open tickets.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 51 percent compared with August last year.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 23 years was recommended.

Spending by the sales team in August was 75 thousand dollars against a budget of 16 thousand.

Spending by the finance team in December was 14 thousand dollars against a budget of 21 thousand.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 38 percent compared with July last year.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 18 percent compared with September last year.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 6 percent compared with June last year.

The Dandenong workshop reported 9 hours of planned maintenance and 20 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 17 percent compared with January last year.

The engineering team hired 33 people in July, and 99 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 64 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 17 out of 100 in November, up from 72.

The Ballarat office reported 26 hours of planned maintenance and 58 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 9 percent compared with February last year.

In February, the people and culture team at the Dandenong workshop closed 56 of its 42 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 60 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop reported 80 hours of planned maintenance and 64 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 51 percent compared with November last year.

The logistics team hired 52 people in September, and 81 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 65 out of 100 in August, up from 39.

In August, the customer support team at the Docklands office closed 21 of its 106 open tickets.

Spending by the people and culture team in December was 36 thousand dollars against a budget of 119 thousand.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 69 percent compared with June last year.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 24 out of 100 in February, up from 107.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 21 out of 100 in August, up from 62.

The logistics team hired 22 people in February, and 106 roles remain open across the business.

The facilities team hired 67 people in April, and 62 roles remain open across the business.

The Ballarat office reported 3 hours of planned maintenance and 30 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

In March, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 39 of its 27 open tickets.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 30 percent compared with July last year.

The facilities team hired 41 people in September, and 27 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 70 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 42 hours of planned maintenance and 43 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

In April, the facilities team at the Dandenong workshop closed 47 of its 63 open tickets.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 17 percent compared with February last year.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 58 out of 100 in April, up from 19.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 33 percent compared with June last year.

Spending by the logistics team in December was 45 thousand dollars against a budget of 61 thousand.

The Shepparton depot reported 88 hours of planned maintenance and 115 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

The Shepparton depot reported 53 hours of planned maintenance and 57 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Operations report 2026, page 52

The facilities team hired 53 people in July, and 120 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the facilities team in May was 18 thousand dollars against a budget of 26 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 22 out of 100 in August, up from 12.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 71 out of 100 in November, up from 14.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 46 percent compared with April last year.

The Ballarat office reported 62 hours of planned maintenance and 112 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

In June, the finance team at the Docklands office closed 90 of its 25 open tickets.

In December, the people and culture team at the Bendigo depot closed 71 of its 32 open tickets.

The finance team hired 90 people in January, and 37 roles remain open across the business.

The finance team hired 50 people in February, and 60 roles remain open across the business.

The customer support team hired 76 people in December, and 103 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the facilities team in April was 32 thousand dollars against a budget of 55 thousand.

Spending by the engineering team in July was 19 thousand dollars against a budget of 24 thousand.

The Bendigo depot reported 35 hours of planned maintenance and 34 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 48 percent compared with August last year.

Spending by the logistics team in September was 22 thousand dollars against a budget of 65 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 56 out of 100 in March, up from 21.

The Ballarat office reported 43 hours of planned maintenance and 29 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

Spending by the customer support team in February was 69 thousand dollars against a budget of 111 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 41 years was recommended.

In October, the logistics team at the Ballarat office closed 29 of its 100 open tickets.

The facilities team hired 47 people in August, and 27 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office reported 87 hours of planned maintenance and 118 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

The engineering team hired 27 people in January, and 117 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 84 out of 100 in October, up from 76.

The finance team hired 30 people in February, and 45 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the customer support team in February was 58 thousand dollars against a budget of 97 thousand.

Spending by the people and culture team in August was 67 thousand dollars against a budget of 18 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 3 out of 100 in July, up from 68.

The Dandenong workshop reported 68 hours of planned maintenance and 47 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

Spending by the customer support team in January was 18 thousand dollars against a budget of 105 thousand.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 67 percent compared with January last year.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 65 percent compared with November last year.

The Bendigo depot reported 66 hours of planned maintenance and 89 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

In March, the facilities team at the Docklands office closed 25 of its 16 open tickets.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 50 years was recommended.

Spending by the customer support team in June was 56 thousand dollars against a budget of 63 thousand.

The people and culture team hired 45 people in July, and 115 roles remain open across the business.

In April, the finance team at the Bendigo depot closed 77 of its 115 open tickets.

The Docklands office reported 46 hours of planned maintenance and 66 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 48 percent compared with September last year.

The logistics team hired 90 people in February, and 79 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop reported 75 hours of planned maintenance and 37 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Spending by the facilities team in July was 45 thousand dollars against a budget of 54 thousand.

The facilities team hired 19 people in September, and 65 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 30 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 59 out of 100 in January, up from 56.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 76 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 18 years was recommended.

The sales team hired 67 people in October, and 110 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the logistics team in July was 74 thousand dollars against a budget of 27 thousand.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 75 percent compared with October last year.

Spending by the people and culture team in May was 29 thousand dollars against a budget of 20 thousand.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 27 years was recommended.

The facilities team hired 36 people in January, and 54 roles remain open across the business.

The Ballarat office reported 72 hours of planned maintenance and 19 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Spending by the logistics team in May was 54 thousand dollars against a budget of 102 thousand.

The Docklands office reported 3 hours of planned maintenance and 31 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

The Docklands office reported 81 hours of planned maintenance and 99 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

In July, the engineering team at the Shepparton depot closed 84 of its 105 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 26 out of 100 in February, up from 85.

In June, the engineering team at the Dandenong workshop closed 34 of its 23 open tickets.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 39 percent compared with April last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 55 years was recommended.

The facilities team hired 50 people in August, and 108 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office reported 40 hours of planned maintenance and 80 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 6 out of 100 in July, up from 85.

Spending by the customer support team in September was 3 thousand dollars against a budget of 83 thousand.

The Shepparton depot reported 49 hours of planned maintenance and 16 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 73 years was recommended.

Spending by the people and culture team in March was 23 thousand dollars against a budget of 73 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 42 out of 100 in January, up from 102.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 16 out of 100 in February, up from 112.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 35 years was recommended.

Spending by the people and culture team in October was 8 thousand dollars against a budget of 113 thousand.

The Docklands office reported 36 hours of planned maintenance and 102 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 25 percent compared with May last year.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 19 out of 100 in August, up from 97.

The Docklands office reported 80 hours of planned maintenance and 27 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

The Dandenong workshop reported 74 hours of planned maintenance and 51 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Spending by the customer support team in December was 67 thousand dollars against a budget of 115 thousand.

Spending by the finance team in March was 33 thousand dollars against a budget of 76 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 86 percent compared with November last year.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 39 years was recommended.

In October, the logistics team at the Ballarat office closed 43 of its 98 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 85 out of 100 in July, up from 103.

Spending by the customer support team in June was 58 thousand dollars against a budget of 104 thousand.

The finance team hired 29 people in June, and 31 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 37 percent compared with June last year.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 72 out of 100 in October, up from 59.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 10 out of 100 in October, up from 76.

The sales team hired 85 people in January, and 43 roles remain open across the business.

The customer support team hired 19 people in April, and 59 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 89 percent compared with December last year.

Spending by the engineering team in May was 77 thousand dollars against a budget of 42 thousand.

The people and culture team hired 84 people in February, and 61 roles remain open across the business.

In October, the customer support team at the Dandenong workshop closed 56 of its 112 open tickets.

The finance team hired 34 people in May, and 110 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the facilities team in November was 54 thousand dollars against a budget of 48 thousand.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 67 years was recommended.

The facilities team hired 86 people in June, and 111 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the finance team in January was 11 thousand dollars against a budget of 21 thousand.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 78 years was recommended.

The sales team hired 43 people in November, and 58 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 29 out of 100 in February, up from 99.

Spending by the logistics team in November was 29 thousand dollars against a budget of 27 thousand.

Spending by the logistics team in August was 10 thousand dollars against a budget of 74 thousand.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 34 percent compared with February last year.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 22 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot reported 29 hours of planned maintenance and 102 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 50 percent compared with February last year.

The Shepparton depot reported 72 hours of planned maintenance and 13 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 31 years was recommended.

Spending by the logistics team in May was 76 thousand dollars against a budget of 25 thousand.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 60 percent compared with August last year.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 36 years was recommended.

Spending by the people and culture team in October was 29 thousand dollars against a budget of 53 thousand.

In December, the engineering team at the Dandenong workshop closed 5 of its 89 open tickets.

Spending by the finance team in December was 28 thousand dollars against a budget of 55 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop reported 84 hours of planned maintenance and 106 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 63 years was recommended.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 64 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 43 out of 100 in February, up from 119.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 44 out of 100 in May, up from 67.

In March, the customer support team at the Bendigo depot closed 27 of its 91 open tickets.

Spending by the logistics team in April was 82 thousand dollars against a budget of 100 thousand.

The Ballarat office reported 49 hours of planned maintenance and 107 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

The Docklands office reported 15 hours of planned maintenance and 86 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

In October, the people and culture team at the Docklands office closed 48 of its 11 open tickets.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 65 percent compared with February last year.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 59 percent compared with March last year.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 86 percent compared with June last year.

The Dandenong workshop reported 50 hours of planned maintenance and 97 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 41 out of 100 in March, up from 85.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 45 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop reported 72 hours of planned maintenance and 69 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Dandenong workshop reported 85 hours of planned maintenance and 61 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 72 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot reported 85 hours of planned maintenance and 90 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 28 years was recommended.

In March, the people and culture team at the Ballarat office closed 28 of its 51 open tickets.

Spending by the customer support team in October was 86 thousand dollars against a budget of 60 thousand.

In October, the facilities team at the Bendigo depot closed 71 of its 120 open tickets.

Spending by the sales team in October was 82 thousand dollars against a budget of 41 thousand.

In January, the logistics team at the Bendigo depot closed 53 of its 35 open tickets.

The finance team hired 22 people in October, and 52 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 56 out of 100 in October, up from 95.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 57 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 21 out of 100 in June, up from 37.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 31 years was recommended.

Spending by the facilities team in January was 7 thousand dollars against a budget of 115 thousand.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 63 years was recommended.

The people and culture team hired 24 people in December, and 71 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 89 percent compared with January last year.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 39 percent compared with March last year.

In December, the logistics team at the Dandenong workshop closed 38 of its 93 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 74 years was recommended.

Spending by the logistics team in August was 18 thousand dollars against a budget of 18 thousand.

Spending by the facilities team in April was 16 thousand dollars against a budget of 36 thousand.

In February, the logistics team at the Shepparton depot closed 14 of its 108 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 82 out of 100 in January, up from 46.

The Bendigo depot reported 38 hours of planned maintenance and 51 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 42 percent compared with February last year.

The Docklands office reported 2 hours of planned maintenance and 113 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 85 years was recommended.

The finance team hired 26 people in June, and 30 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 19 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 87 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 31 percent compared with June last year.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 5 out of 100 in March, up from 81.

Spending by the sales team in March was 71 thousand dollars against a budget of 117 thousand.

The logistics team hired 37 people in May, and 86 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 22 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 30 percent compared with June last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 76 years was recommended.

In October, the sales team at the Bendigo depot closed 59 of its 11 open tickets.

Spending by the engineering team in May was 22 thousand dollars against a budget of 31 thousand.

Spending by the logistics team in November was 39 thousand dollars against a budget of 82 thousand.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 39 percent compared with February last year.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 52 out of 100 in September, up from 83.

Spending by the logistics team in February was 71 thousand dollars against a budget of 14 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 12 out of 100 in April, up from 94.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 82 years was recommended.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 14 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 36 out of 100 in January, up from 96.

Spending by the sales team in May was 45 thousand dollars against a budget of 119 thousand.

The engineering team hired 85 people in May, and 10 roles remain open across the business.

In June, the engineering team at the Docklands office closed 24 of its 98 open tickets.

The customer support team hired 90 people in April, and 23 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 41 percent compared with December last year.

The finance team hired 90 people in May, and 102 roles remain open across the business.

In August, the sales team at the Ballarat office closed 45 of its 56 open tickets.

Spending by the engineering team in March was 79 thousand dollars against a budget of 119 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 27 percent compared with January last year.

In July, the facilities team at the Ballarat office closed 9 of its 29 open tickets.

Spending by the facilities team in April was 59 thousand dollars against a budget of 16 thousand.

The customer support team hired 74 people in August, and 81 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the customer support team in May was 72 thousand dollars against a budget of 83 thousand.

The finance team hired 66 people in March, and 85 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 2 out of 100 in October, up from 78.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 52 out of 100 in November, up from 113.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 23 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop reported 12 hours of planned maintenance and 77 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

In April, the logistics team at the Ballarat office closed 48 of its 68 open tickets.

The Bendigo depot reported 42 hours of planned maintenance and 73 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 71 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 30 percent compared with June last year.

The Docklands office reported 75 hours of planned maintenance and 56 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

Spending by the customer support team in April was 3 thousand dollars against a budget of 53 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 77 out of 100 in November, up from 39.

The facilities team hired 57 people in July, and 60 roles remain open across the business.

The people and culture team hired 48 people in May, and 78 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the people and culture team in September was 63 thousand dollars against a budget of 19 thousand.

The Shepparton depot reported 56 hours of planned maintenance and 101 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

In April, the engineering team at the Docklands office closed 63 of its 13 open tickets.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 52 percent compared with December last year.

Spending by the people and culture team in January was 30 thousand dollars against a budget of 36 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 90 out of 100 in January, up from 24.

The people and culture team hired 62 people in March, and 38 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 80 percent compared with October last year.

The engineering team hired 23 people in February, and 116 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot reported 3 hours of planned maintenance and 10 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

Spending by the customer support team in October was 67 thousand dollars against a budget of 117 thousand.

The engineering team hired 73 people in July, and 97 roles remain open across the business.

In January, the people and culture team at the Docklands office closed 5 of its 16 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 77 out of 100 in March, up from 117.

The Bendigo depot reported 69 hours of planned maintenance and 25 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 11 years was recommended.

The Ballarat office reported 80 hours of planned maintenance and 78 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

In September, the finance team at the Bendigo depot closed 60 of its 70 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 52 out of 100 in September, up from 38.

In July, the logistics team at the Shepparton depot closed 9 of its 98 open tickets.

In March, the customer support team at the Ballarat office closed 28 of its 62 open tickets.

The facilities team hired 34 people in April, and 85 roles remain open across the business.

The Ballarat office reported 16 hours of planned maintenance and 17 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 44 percent compared with January last year.

Spending by the logistics team in May was 14 thousand dollars against a budget of 67 thousand.

Spending by the customer support team in March was 7 thousand dollars against a budget of 33 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop reported 70 hours of planned maintenance and 113 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 23 out of 100 in October, up from 56.

Spending by the finance team in July was 38 thousand dollars against a budget of 113 thousand.

The Shepparton depot reported 36 hours of planned maintenance and 116 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 25 years was recommended.

In July, the customer support team at the Bendigo depot closed 74 of its 91 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 37 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 54 out of 100 in February, up from 67.

In March, the logistics team at the Shepparton depot closed 79 of its 75 open tickets.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 79 percent compared with December last year.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 41 percent compared with February last year.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 20 percent compared with October last year.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 67 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop reported 51 hours of planned maintenance and 33 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

In October, the people and culture team at the Shepparton depot closed 4 of its 44 open tickets.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 62 percent compared with June last year.

Spending by the customer support team in December was 25 thousand dollars against a budget of 25 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop reported 58 hours of planned maintenance and 77 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 78 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 53 percent compared with November last year.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 23 percent compared with August last year.

The Ballarat office reported 54 hours of planned maintenance and 104 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

Spending by the sales team in October was 9 thousand dollars against a budget of 29 thousand.

The Bendigo depot reported 73 hours of planned maintenance and 56 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 34 out of 100 in May, up from 28.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 65 out of 100 in October, up from 20.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 57 out of 100 in March, up from 42.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 14 out of 100 in July, up from 44.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 24 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 69 years was recommended.

Spending by the sales team in February was 18 thousand dollars against a budget of 49 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop reported 25 hours of planned maintenance and 96 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 83 percent compared with May last year.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 9 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 41 hours of planned maintenance and 79 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 21 percent compared with March last year.

Spending by the engineering team in August was 85 thousand dollars against a budget of 79 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 46 years was recommended.

The facilities team hired 5 people in June, and 40 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the sales team in May was 35 thousand dollars against a budget of 30 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop reported 33 hours of planned maintenance and 77 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 72 percent compared with March last year.

In January, the people and culture team at the Shepparton depot closed 15 of its 63 open tickets.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 15 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop reported 8 hours of planned maintenance and 111 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The engineering team hired 8 people in May, and 21 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the facilities team in January was 82 thousand dollars against a budget of 20 thousand.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 32 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 80 out of 100 in August, up from 63.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 3 percent compared with August last year.

The finance team hired 65 people in September, and 85 roles remain open across the business.

In August, the facilities team at the Ballarat office closed 36 of its 66 open tickets.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 30 percent compared with May last year.

In March, the facilities team at the Bendigo depot closed 9 of its 60 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 64 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 64 percent compared with November last year.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 48 out of 100 in September, up from 22.

The Shepparton depot reported 32 hours of planned maintenance and 44 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Spending by the people and culture team in December was 29 thousand dollars against a budget of 15 thousand.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 65 percent compared with July last year.

In October, the finance team at the Shepparton depot closed 23 of its 102 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 37 out of 100 in January, up from 64.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 83 years was recommended.

The customer support team hired 19 people in August, and 21 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the logistics team in September was 22 thousand dollars against a budget of 68 thousand.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 53 percent compared with December last year.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 70 years was recommended.

Spending by the customer support team in November was 73 thousand dollars against a budget of 68 thousand.

In April, the facilities team at the Dandenong workshop closed 47 of its 86 open tickets.

In September, the sales team at the Docklands office closed 90 of its 32 open tickets.

Spending by the facilities team in November was 77 thousand dollars against a budget of 80 thousand.

The engineering team hired 42 people in March, and 112 roles remain open across the business.

The sales team hired 23 people in December, and 32 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 54 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 14 years was recommended.

Spending by the customer support team in December was 80 thousand dollars against a budget of 52 thousand.

The Docklands office reported 67 hours of planned maintenance and 52 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

Spending by the logistics team in May was 36 thousand dollars against a budget of 107 thousand.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 72 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 10 percent compared with July last year.

The Dandenong workshop reported 38 hours of planned maintenance and 77 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Ballarat office reported 68 hours of planned maintenance and 16 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

The Docklands office reported 41 hours of planned maintenance and 66 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

The customer support team hired 38 people in January, and 112 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 50 out of 100 in June, up from 19.

In June, the facilities team at the Docklands office closed 23 of its 64 open tickets.

Spending by the facilities team in January was 15 thousand dollars against a budget of 102 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 23 out of 100 in July, up from 98.

The customer support team hired 8 people in February, and 67 roles remain open across the business.

In September, the finance team at the Ballarat office closed 76 of its 63 open tickets.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 12 percent compared with March last year.

In March, the facilities team at the Docklands office closed 90 of its 101 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop reported 44 hours of planned maintenance and 51 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 21 out of 100 in July, up from 28.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 43 out of 100 in April, up from 68.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 5 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 39 percent compared with October last year.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 50 percent compared with December last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 30 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 15 percent compared with September last year.

The Dandenong workshop reported 63 hours of planned maintenance and 53 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 80 out of 100 in March, up from 113.

Spending by the finance team in January was 40 thousand dollars against a budget of 35 thousand.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 87 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 48 percent compared with April last year.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 61 years was recommended.

In August, the engineering team at the Docklands office closed 83 of its 89 open tickets.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 17 years was recommended.

In May, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 22 of its 106 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 76 out of 100 in April, up from 55.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 12 out of 100 in July, up from 107.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 33 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 90 percent compared with March last year.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 17 out of 100 in June, up from 66.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 18 years was recommended.

The engineering team hired 49 people in May, and 114 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 39 percent compared with March last year.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 32 percent compared with April last year.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 47 out of 100 in May, up from 86.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 21 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 33 out of 100 in January, up from 114.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 27 years was recommended.

In October, the logistics team at the Dandenong workshop closed 28 of its 18 open tickets.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 82 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 9 percent compared with March last year.

The customer support team hired 89 people in April, and 89 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 5 years was recommended.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 46 years was recommended.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in March; no change to the term of 24 years was recommended.

In October, the facilities team at the Ballarat office closed 20 of its 72 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 49 out of 100 in June, up from 99.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 45 out of 100 in July, up from 13.

The finance team hired 18 people in February, and 112 roles remain open across the business.

In September, the facilities team at the Dandenong workshop closed 2 of its 113 open tickets.

The facilities team hired 13 people in August, and 44 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the sales team in October was 36 thousand dollars against a budget of 78 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 33 percent compared with April last year.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 90 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 82 out of 100 in August, up from 13.

The Docklands office reported 36 hours of planned maintenance and 52 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

The Ballarat office reported 5 hours of planned maintenance and 42 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 13 percent compared with August last year.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 13 out of 100 in May, up from 27.

Spending by the facilities team in November was 59 thousand dollars against a budget of 54 thousand.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 71 percent compared with March last year.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 28 years was recommended.

In October, the logistics team at the Bendigo depot closed 75 of its 87 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 88 years was recommended.

The Shepparton depot reported 39 hours of planned maintenance and 44 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 75 percent compared with December last year.

Spending by the finance team in February was 87 thousand dollars against a budget of 82 thousand.

Spending by the engineering team in December was 31 thousand dollars against a budget of 110 thousand.

Spending by the people and culture team in October was 18 thousand dollars against a budget of 47 thousand.

The customer support team hired 54 people in September, and 96 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 8 out of 100 in September, up from 25.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 88 percent compared with June last year.

The customer support team hired 63 people in October, and 11 roles remain open across the business.

In September, the people and culture team at the Ballarat office closed 81 of its 110 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop reported 36 hours of planned maintenance and 72 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 83 out of 100 in October, up from 45.

In March, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 57 of its 20 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 84 out of 100 in January, up from 83.

The customer support team hired 54 people in August, and 68 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the logistics team was 85 out of 100 in June, up from 75.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 49 out of 100 in August, up from 25.

Spending by the facilities team in March was 90 thousand dollars against a budget of 115 thousand.

In February, the engineering team at the Shepparton depot closed 58 of its 39 open tickets.

The Bendigo depot reported 73 hours of planned maintenance and 30 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 21 out of 100 in August, up from 115.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 26 years was recommended.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 7 years was recommended.

In September, the people and culture team at the Ballarat office closed 56 of its 92 open tickets.

Spending by the finance team in December was 6 thousand dollars against a budget of 97 thousand.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 17 years was recommended.

Spending by the finance team in July was 26 thousand dollars against a budget of 10 thousand.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 57 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 77 out of 100 in January, up from 111.

Spending by the engineering team in June was 6 thousand dollars against a budget of 94 thousand.

In May, the engineering team at the Shepparton depot closed 28 of its 39 open tickets.

In May, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 82 of its 35 open tickets.

In November, the customer support team at the Bendigo depot closed 42 of its 71 open tickets.

The Ballarat office reported 37 hours of planned maintenance and 104 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

The lease on the Geelong warehouse ends on 31 March 2027. The renewal option has to be exercised by 30 September 2026, and the landlord has offered a five-year term at the current rent plus three percent.

In October, the sales team at the Dandenong workshop closed 23 of its 89 open tickets.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 66 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 33 percent compared with January last year.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 64 out of 100 in April, up from 117.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 9 years was recommended.

In December, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 7 of its 36 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 37 out of 100 in February, up from 17.

In January, the finance team at the Dandenong workshop closed 61 of its 20 open tickets.

The Dandenong workshop reported 8 hours of planned maintenance and 66 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

Spending by the people and culture team in July was 28 thousand dollars against a budget of 80 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 59 out of 100 in June, up from 101.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 5 out of 100 in June, up from 83.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in April; no change to the term of 66 years was recommended.

The logistics team hired 3 people in May, and 11 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 48 years was recommended.

In August, the logistics team at the Docklands office closed 20 of its 75 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 66 hours of planned maintenance and 56 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

The Docklands office reported 35 hours of planned maintenance and 66 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

The engineering team hired 5 people in November, and 55 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in January; no change to the term of 14 years was recommended.

The finance team hired 12 people in October, and 101 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office reported 9 hours of planned maintenance and 99 hours of unplanned downtime in June.

The customer support team hired 90 people in September, and 26 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot reported 49 hours of planned maintenance and 96 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

Spending by the people and culture team in April was 17 thousand dollars against a budget of 94 thousand.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 47 out of 100 in May, up from 10.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 71 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 65 hours of planned maintenance and 51 hours of unplanned downtime in December.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 46 years was recommended.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 12 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 45 percent compared with March last year.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 19 out of 100 in June, up from 108.

Spending by the engineering team in January was 12 thousand dollars against a budget of 36 thousand.

Spending by the engineering team in July was 22 thousand dollars against a budget of 16 thousand.

The logistics team hired 38 people in June, and 102 roles remain open across the business.

The Ballarat office lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 9 years was recommended.

In December, the engineering team at the Dandenong workshop closed 58 of its 40 open tickets.

The facilities team hired 85 people in October, and 81 roles remain open across the business.

Spending by the sales team in November was 17 thousand dollars against a budget of 92 thousand.

The Bendigo depot reported 14 hours of planned maintenance and 58 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

Spending by the finance team in June was 89 thousand dollars against a budget of 69 thousand.

Spending by the customer support team in March was 27 thousand dollars against a budget of 114 thousand.

The sales team hired 82 people in November, and 73 roles remain open across the business.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 34 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 38 out of 100 in July, up from 106.

Spending by the finance team in November was 22 thousand dollars against a budget of 87 thousand.

The Dandenong workshop reported 66 hours of planned maintenance and 110 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

The Shepparton depot reported 22 hours of planned maintenance and 59 hours of unplanned downtime in November.

In April, the people and culture team at the Shepparton depot closed 43 of its 37 open tickets.

Spending by the customer support team in October was 81 thousand dollars against a budget of 91 thousand.

The logistics team hired 73 people in November, and 48 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot reported 83 hours of planned maintenance and 100 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 76 out of 100 in May, up from 25.

The Shepparton depot lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 70 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 6 hours of planned maintenance and 110 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 83 out of 100 in July, up from 104.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in November; no change to the term of 84 years was recommended.

In May, the finance team at the Ballarat office closed 40 of its 96 open tickets.

In October, the facilities team at the Shepparton depot closed 48 of its 89 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 77 hours of planned maintenance and 10 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

The Docklands office reported 48 hours of planned maintenance and 112 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 4 out of 100 in October, up from 19.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in June; no change to the term of 11 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 52 out of 100 in December, up from 52.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 82 percent compared with November last year.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 10 percent compared with August last year.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 78 percent compared with October last year.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 66 percent compared with July last year.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 19 percent compared with March last year.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 68 out of 100 in November, up from 46.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 18 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop reported 24 hours of planned maintenance and 76 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 22 years was recommended.

The Ballarat office reported 63 hours of planned maintenance and 39 hours of unplanned downtime in May.

The Shepparton depot reported 33 hours of planned maintenance and 29 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Spending by the engineering team in February was 7 thousand dollars against a budget of 115 thousand.

In March, the sales team at the Docklands office closed 44 of its 65 open tickets.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 26 percent compared with December last year.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 77 out of 100 in June, up from 111.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 82 percent compared with July last year.

The facilities team hired 48 people in August, and 78 roles remain open across the business.

The people and culture team hired 19 people in April, and 120 roles remain open across the business.

In November, the facilities team at the Docklands office closed 65 of its 79 open tickets.

In May, the finance team at the Shepparton depot closed 17 of its 45 open tickets.

The Ballarat office reported 5 hours of planned maintenance and 62 hours of unplanned downtime in August.

In August, the facilities team at the Bendigo depot closed 29 of its 20 open tickets.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 83 percent compared with May last year.

In June, the people and culture team at the Ballarat office closed 26 of its 15 open tickets.

The Shepparton depot reported 85 hours of planned maintenance and 55 hours of unplanned downtime in February.

The facilities team hired 20 people in September, and 102 roles remain open across the business.

The Ballarat office reported 2 hours of planned maintenance and 106 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

The logistics team hired 34 people in April, and 113 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 11 percent compared with February last year.

The facilities team hired 21 people in June, and 37 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 72 out of 100 in August, up from 48.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 45 years was recommended.

Spending by the customer support team in August was 87 thousand dollars against a budget of 68 thousand.

Spending by the people and culture team in December was 30 thousand dollars against a budget of 53 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 4 percent compared with October last year.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 63 out of 100 in January, up from 101.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 71 percent compared with August last year.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 12 years was recommended.

The people and culture team hired 79 people in September, and 48 roles remain open across the business.

The customer support team hired 21 people in July, and 23 roles remain open across the business.

In April, the engineering team at the Docklands office closed 86 of its 45 open tickets.

In October, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 84 of its 71 open tickets.

The facilities team hired 45 people in January, and 120 roles remain open across the business.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in September; no change to the term of 81 years was recommended.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in May; no change to the term of 6 years was recommended.

In May, the logistics team at the Dandenong workshop closed 85 of its 57 open tickets.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 74 percent compared with October last year.

The engineering team hired 6 people in February, and 97 roles remain open across the business.

The customer support team hired 32 people in October, and 15 roles remain open across the business.

The Dandenong workshop lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 14 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in July; no change to the term of 65 years was recommended.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 69 percent compared with January last year.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 68 percent compared with February last year.

Spending by the people and culture team in May was 72 thousand dollars against a budget of 104 thousand.

The engineering team hired 22 people in October, and 27 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 6 percent compared with September last year.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 47 percent compared with September last year.

Customer satisfaction for the sales team was 38 out of 100 in December, up from 108.

In March, the engineering team at the Shepparton depot closed 83 of its 52 open tickets.

In May, the finance team at the Docklands office closed 87 of its 64 open tickets.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in October; no change to the term of 32 years was recommended.

In May, the customer support team at the Shepparton depot closed 67 of its 31 open tickets.

The Docklands office reported 39 hours of planned maintenance and 100 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

Customer satisfaction for the people and culture team was 55 out of 100 in August, up from 88.

The Bendigo depot reported 14 hours of planned maintenance and 69 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

In March, the finance team at the Dandenong workshop closed 11 of its 111 open tickets.

The finance team hired 61 people in February, and 26 roles remain open across the business.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in August; no change to the term of 39 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 73 out of 100 in September, up from 101.

The Docklands office lease was reviewed in December; no change to the term of 88 years was recommended.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 55 out of 100 in December, up from 58.

In May, the sales team at the Dandenong workshop closed 75 of its 71 open tickets.

The Ballarat office reported 70 hours of planned maintenance and 42 hours of unplanned downtime in July.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 16 percent compared with April last year.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 17 percent compared with July last year.

Spending by the people and culture team in November was 18 thousand dollars against a budget of 85 thousand.

In December, the facilities team at the Bendigo depot closed 21 of its 41 open tickets.

The Bendigo depot lease was reviewed in February; no change to the term of 40 years was recommended.

The Bendigo depot reported 69 hours of planned maintenance and 85 hours of unplanned downtime in April.

Customer satisfaction for the customer support team was 32 out of 100 in August, up from 71.

Spending by the finance team in June was 7 thousand dollars against a budget of 80 thousand.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 80 percent compared with April last year.

The sales team hired 42 people in September, and 107 roles remain open across the business.

The sales team hired 51 people in November, and 62 roles remain open across the business.

Customer satisfaction for the engineering team was 56 out of 100 in December, up from 56.

Energy use at the Ballarat office fell by 62 percent compared with March last year.

The Docklands office reported 18 hours of planned maintenance and 63 hours of unplanned downtime in September.

Spending by the sales team in April was 34 thousand dollars against a budget of 120 thousand.

The sales team hired 37 people in September, and 15 roles remain open across the business.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 52 percent compared with September last year.

The Ballarat office reported 51 hours of planned maintenance and 59 hours of unplanned downtime in October.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 35 percent compared with June last year.

In March, the engineering team at the Ballarat office closed 32 of its 11 open tickets.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 23 percent compared with January last year.

The Bendigo depot reported 71 hours of planned maintenance and 69 hours of unplanned downtime in January.

The Bendigo depot reported 18 hours of planned maintenance and 46 hours of unplanned downtime in March.

Energy use at the Dandenong workshop fell by 16 percent compared with December last year.

Energy use at the Docklands office fell by 47 percent compared with October last year.

In December, the people and culture team at the Bendigo depot closed 85 of its 78 open tickets.

Energy use at the Bendigo depot fell by 10 percent compared with May last year.

Customer satisfaction for the finance team was 54 out of 100 in June, up from 74.

Energy use at the Shepparton depot fell by 79 percent compared with July last year.

In June, the sales team at the Shepparton depot closed 47 of its 98 open tickets.

Customer satisfaction for the facilities team was 18 out of 100 in September, up from 105.